SITUATION

The plots are located on Delaware Road just over a mile from the village of Gunnislake with its general store, doctor's surgery and facilities including a branch line connecting with the mainline railway station at Plymouth. Further facilities, a supermarket and amenities can be found in the town of Callington, some five miles away with schooling to A-level standard, doctors', dentist and veterinary surgeries. The historic moorland town of Tavistock is six miles to the east and offers similar facilities with the addition of its Pannier market and renowned Kelly College public school. The former market town of Launceston is fourteen miles to the north, giving access to the A30 trunk road which links the cathedral cities of Exeter and Truro. At Exeter there is access to the M5 motorway network, mainline railway station serving London Paddington and international airport. The city port of Plymouth lies within commuting distance twenty miles away. The city contains a deep water marina, mainline railway station serving London Paddington and cross channel ferry port giving access to Northern France and Spain.
