Bonhill Building is good for people and the planet. From the living wall that covers the front of our building, to our planted roofs and edible walls – green is officially our favourite colour.

Materials have been chosen for their low environmental impact (to a minimum Green Guide A rating). We've incorporated timber ceilings, recycled terrazzo flooring and recycled fabrics. Even our toilet seats are made from recycled yoghurt pots – no, seriously.

Natural light, clean air and living walls.

Natural light, clean air and living walls irrigated with harvested rainwater set the tone. Wellbeing classes, get-togethers and pop-up food events raise the bar.

Social connection and wellness have been considered throughout the building. Make use of breakout spaces, private meeting booths, reception soft seating areas and the flexible meeting spaces and coffee point in the courtyard and pavilion.

Smarter working is made easy with Bonhill's Smart Spaces app which combines keyless access with the ability to control aspects of your day - booking spaces, controlling lighting and temperature, through to reporting faults - it also gathers environmental data to lower energy use.

Bonhill Building is a welcoming space with a positive vibe. This starts with the first “hello” in the lobby.

Then we move through to a new, landscaped courtyard, an all-season terrace with retractable roof and our stunning events’ pavilion.

It’s the sort of place you’ll want to hang out. The sort of place that’ll make work a pleasure.

It's not just where you're at, IT'S HOW YOU GET THERE

Work's so much better with an easy commute. And Bonhill Building has it easier than most.

We're a four-minute saunter from Old Street station, a seven-minute meander from Moorgate or an 11-minute dawdle from Liverpool Street. There are loads of bus routes, everyone in Shoreditch is cycling nuts, and the area has a Walk Score of 100 (that's as good as it gets, by the way).

A special building in an equally special place.

Design, community and sustainability, all beautifully balanced.
