Location

Situated on the perimeter of Admaston, extremely close to Dothill Nature Reserve and walks along Silkin Way. The property is conveniently placed for a range of primary and secondary education facilities, the neighbourhood amenities of Admaston and to Wellington Town which is approximately 1 mile distant, and offers a range of shops, supermarket, traditional market and access to junction 7 of the M54 which leads to Telford Centre and the wider West Midlands Conurbation in the east; Shrewsbury is also accessed off junction 7 towards the west.

Brief Description

This detached bungalow sits back from the road, with plenty of off road parking.

Entered via a large porch, the accommodation briefly comprises a front aspect lounge with bow window and slate chimney breast feature. Off the lounge is the inner hallway, with airing cupboard (housing the recently fitted gas combination boiler), and additional storage cupboard.

The kitchen features a range of fitted units, having space for free standing cooker and fridge freezer, as well as space and plumbing provision for a washing machine. This side aspect room features both a window and door opening to the car port.

The two rear aspect bedrooms are both generous doubles, with the largest having built in wardrobes to one wall and a wide picture window overlooking the back garden.

The second bedroom is also a good sized double, again having a double width built-in wardrobe and patio doors to the rear garden.

The shower room has a large walk-in shower, low level flush WC and pedestal wash basin.

Externally, the property has a driveway suitable for several vehicles, leading to the full depth car port, which has doors to either end. Adjacent to the driveway is a well maintained lawn, surrounded by shrubbed borders. The rear garden has a large concrete sectional garage, currently used for storage and well maintained enclosed gardens of lawns and mature borders of shrubs and perennials.
