Description

There is lots to discover in this beautifully formed one bedroom home. Tucked away behind a curved brick wall with a hardwood gate the garden wraps around the house giving you a real sense of privacy. The Indian sandstone patio is the perfect spot for alfresco meals and leads round to a lawn with shrub and flower beds.

A spacious, heated porch welcomes you and has built in storage with space for a tumble drier, there's plenty of room to slip off your shoes and hang your coat before opening the door into the living room. There is more storage in the deep cupboard under the stairs and the ideal space for the TV adjacent. The double tower radiator here and another in the dining area will kick out plenty of heat to keep this a very cosy home. The kitchen/dining area is open plan and well fitted with oak style units and integrated appliances.

On the first floor you'll find the modern, fully tiled shower room. Cleverly designed with corner wc, vanity basin and cubicle giving a feeling of space, there's also a window for natural light and ventilation. The bedroom is a generous size with part sloping ceiling and Velux window to the front. A full wall of wardrobes gives plenty of storage, and there is access with a ladder to the boarded loft space where the combination boiler is located up out of the way.

There is allocated parking in the parking area accessed via St Edmunds Close, the current owners have chosen to use this space for a timber shed and instead park in the visitor space. The location is very convenient, the Solent Rangers X4 bus stop is just yards from the property for easy access to Southampton or Portsmouth, via the Locks Heath Shopping Centre or Fareham.

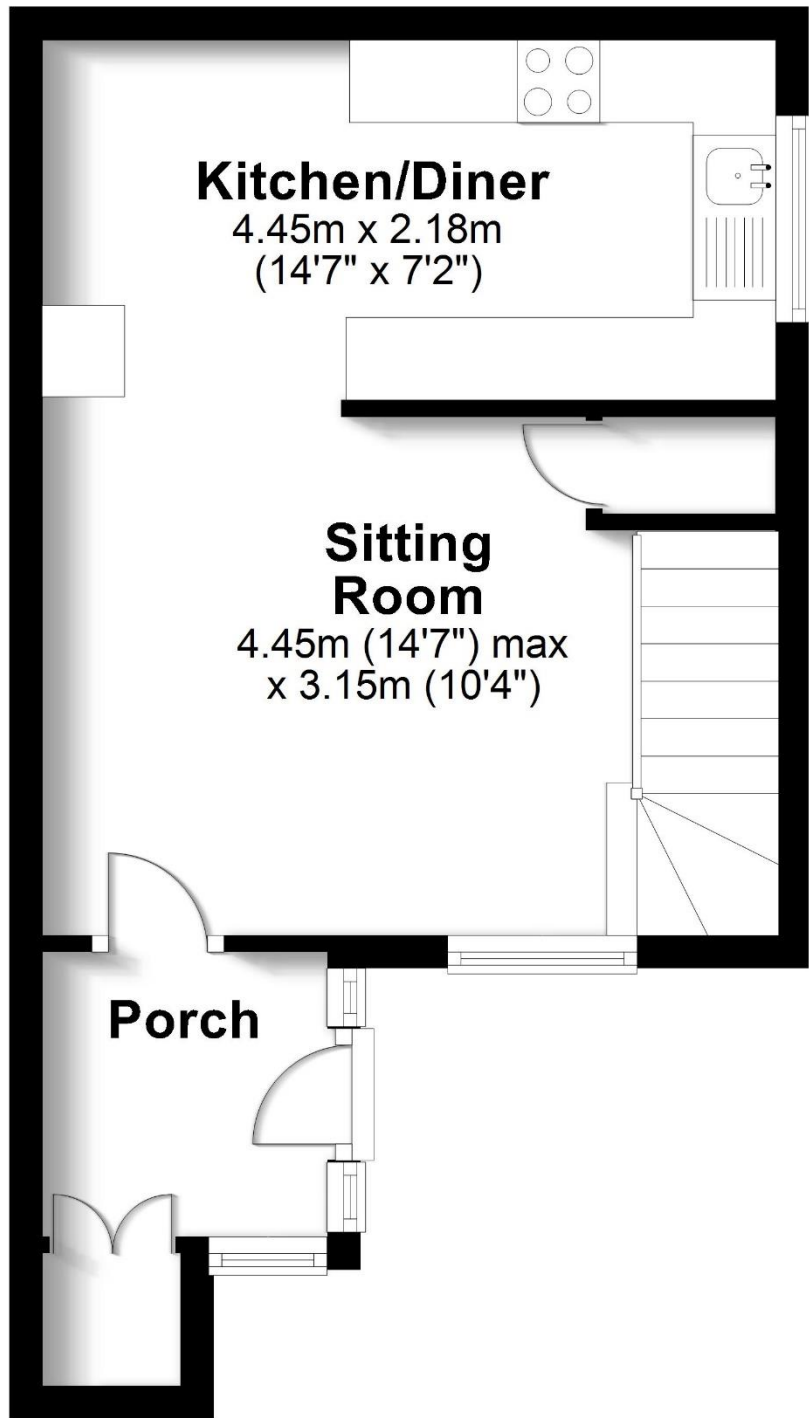

We feel this pretty one bedroom house represents the perfect first time or investment buy. So often at this price range you're limited to leasehold flats with high service charges but not here, it's freehold and there are no estate charges to pay. Give us a call so we can tell you more about this lovely home.
