Property overview

Two iconic red telephone boxes.

For the first time Oakwood Commercial are thrilled to present an extraordinary business opportunity, with the freehold sale of two listed British Red Telephone Boxes! Own a piece of iconic British history and make a unique statement for your business in a prime location in Ramsgate Seafont.

These iconic historic listed "K6" red phone boxes or "Jubilee" kiosks, commemorating the Silver Jubilee of the coronation of King George V are 8'3" high and 3ft square and come with an electrical supply.

They were originally designed by Sir Giles Gilbert Scott, who also designed Battersea Power Station and Bankside Power Station, now the Tate Modern.

Historic England have listed to preserve these iconic red kiosks, and many have been transformed into coffee shops, ice cream kiosks, bakeries, and defibrillators, or they could be simply a great advertising opportunity for your business.

The total number of surviving K2 telephone boxes being only about 224 in the UK and 2 are right here in a prominent trading location on Ramsgate seafont, immediately outside Weatherspoons' largest pub in the UK!

Location

These two iconic listed Red Telephone Boxes are located directly in front of the UK's largest Westerspoons on Ramsgate seafront next to the Royal Harbour and car park, generating outstanding foot traffic.

Ramsgate is a coastal town situated on the south east coast looking out across the channel, approximately 78 miles (126 kilometers) south east of London and is known for its picturesque harbour, sandy beaches, and historic architecture. It is well-connected to other parts of Kent, with Dover and Canterbury approx. 25 Minutes by car and London can be reached on HS1 in around 1h 20m
