

THORNBERRY GROVE
SPOONER ROW | NORFOLK

HESTIA

IDYLIC VILLAGE LIVING

Proudly located in the village of Spooner Row, Thornberry Grove is a collection of four and five bedroom detached, spacious homes set within unspoilt Norfolk countryside.

Purposely designed in sympathy with their rural surroundings, Thornberry Grove homes have been expertly designed blending traditional exteriors with contemporary interiors. Carefully considered internal layouts and ample external grounds serve modern family lifestyles.

These beautifully crafted homes present exemplary village living.

WYMONDHAM

Market Town

The charming, historic market town of Wymondham is just 3 miles away from Thornberry Grove. Widely known for its magnificent 12th Century Abbey, excellent schools and East Anglia's longest heritage railway, the town also offers a wide variety of shopping and leisure amenities.

Wymondham's Market Square hosts the thriving weekly Friday market and is surrounded by attractive 17th Century buildings and narrow medieval streets. The town centre offers an array of high street retail, boutique shops and quality restaurants.

Access to London and Norwich via the town's mainline railway service offers convenient travel for both commuting and leisure.

ADVENTURES

ABOUND

Memorable day trips to the beautiful Norfolk heritage coastline are within easy reach, spoiling visitors with a variety of excellent beaches surrounded by the designated Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty.

Blakeney, Burnham Market and Holt are just a few of the famous historic townscapes waiting to be explored to enjoy their fine eateries, boutique shops and local produce.

Norfolk is also privileged to possess stunning stately halls such as Blickling, Houghton, Holkham, Fellbrigg, and of course, Sandringham, the much-loved country retreat of British Monarchs since 1862.

NORWICH

A Fine City

The medieval city of Norwich, teeming with culture, historic architecture, excellent shopping and fine restaurants, is just 13 miles away.

With its 12th Century Anglican Cathedral, Norman Castle, four theatres, numerous annual festivals and England's largest outdoor market, this UNESCO City of Literature radiates an immersive cultural spirit.

Complemented by the University of East Anglia and adjoining Sainsbury Centre for Visual Arts, Norwich is a modern, bustling city set amongst a beautiful assortment of medieval buildings and cobbled streets.

RURAL SETTING

It is rumoured that the village of Spooner Row attained its name in the 15th Century from the local woods being coppiced and used to make spoons, taps and spindles which were sold locally in the market at Wymondham.

Offering tranquil village living, Spooner Row boasts a primary school, village hall, a Victorian church as well as a thriving village pub, The Boars. It also has a train station providing twice daily routes to Norwich and Cambridge.

Just over a mile away is the world class state school, Wymondham College, voted 'Secondary School of the Year' in November 2021 in the Pearson National Teaching Awards.

CONTEMPORARY LIVING

Our contemporary interiors are accentuated by open-plan, flexible living via large, kitchen/dining rooms perfect for entertaining or family use. Well-proportioned private spaces include a sitting room and study in all Thornberry Grove homes.

Blending open plan interiors with traditional architecture our homes offer privacy, storage, and natural light, which are all vital components in our design ethos.

Our interiors are finished with high quality materials underlining the promise of quality.
