THE LOCALITY:

Bethlehem 1½ miles away, is a rural hamlet surrounding by beautiful scenery, being on a hillside overlooking the picturesque Towy River Valley, (the river is well known for its salmon, brown trout and sea trout), within the western reaches of the Brecon Beacons National Park. Bethlehem has a post office, which is located in the community hall (the former school house), not open every day. This small post office becomes unusually busy at Christmas time for posting cards with the special Bethlehem postmark, and for the village's traditional Christmas market. The settlement has a long history and is dominated by Garn Goch – a hill rising to about 700ft (213m) above sea level, commanding far reaching views and topped by the largest Iron Age stone-built hill fort in Wales, with steep ramparts. There are various footpaths and woodland trails in the area and 'The Beacons Way' footpath can be accessed from the road that passes through the village – being a waymarked long distance route, (starting at nearby Llangadog), leading up to Garn Goch hill fort and journeying across the major ranges of the National Park including the Black Mountain, Brecon Beacons and Black Mountains Range in the east – some 95 miles in total.

Llandeilo is 3 miles away, an ancient market town at the fringe of the National Park, with distinctive shops, galleries, pubs, hotels, restaurants, main post office, health centre, dentists, schools, churches, and Heart of Wales railway station. Llandeilo dates back to the 13th Century and stands in an elevated position on the banks of the Towy, having an old world charm with narrow streets and historic buildings. The A483 road runs through the town leading southwards to Swansea. The A40 to the north of the town provides easy access to the east and west with connections to a good road network through Wales.

Llangadog is 4 miles away, a delightful old drovers' and market village providing good amenities including a primary school, doctor's surgery, general store, newsagent with post office, butcher's shop, pubs, St. Cadog's church, and a small railway station at the edge of the village, on the scenic Heart of Wales country line running over 121 miles from Swansea to Shrewsbury.
