INTRODUCTION

Fintloch is situated in a stunning rural location nestled within the Glenkens, close to the pretty village of New Galloway. The property occupies an elevated site with far reaching views over the Galloway Hills and surrounding countryside. The property has been unoccupied for some time and does require full refurbishment; however, it presents a superb blank canvas to create a wonderful family home along with a variety of opportunities to develop small-scale agricultural, equestrian or any other tourist-based enterprise in a rural yet accessible area of Dumfries & Galloway.

The traditional courtyard steading to the rear could well have residential development potential given that the conversion of traditional farm buildings to residential dwellings (change of use), is consistent with the Dumfries & Galloway Council's present structure and local plans. Prospective purchasers are advised to make their own enquiries in this respect. The views from the steading framed via the current openings are absolutely stunning.

The land at Fintloch amounts to about 3.141 acres to include the areas occupied by the farmhouse, steading, access tracks, etc. The land affords the opportunity to establish a smallholding / horticultural type business or indeed there may be some development opportunity for tourism enterprises.

The nearest local services are found at the pretty village of New Galloway where you will find a community run village shop retailing general groceries and locally produced products along with the fantastic Arts & Community Centre, the CatStrand, presenting a high quality of programmes throughout the year. Primary schooling is also available within New Galloway with St John's Town of Dalry (3.5 miles distant) offering both primary and secondary schooling. The Glenkens Medical Practice is based in New Galloway.

A more extensive range of services can be found in Castle Douglas (The Food Town). Castle Douglas offers a range of essential services, which include a modern health centre, a wide range of professional services, leisure facilities as well as two national supermarkets. The town is renowned for its niche retailing with a thriving high street boasting a wide range of traditional shops, butchers, bakers, delicatessens and artisan bakers along with a range of craft outlets.

This area of the Stewartry attracts tourism and boasts a wealth of wildlife with the nearby Loch Ken having regular inhabitants such as ducks, swans, red kites, etc. A feature of Loch Ken is the tourist industry, which has developed around the east bank. Loch Ken is one of the few lochs in the country which allows water skiing, jet skiing and other speed related sports, given that there has been no imposition of any speed restriction on the waterway. Adjacent to Loch Ken is the RSPB bird reserve, the "Galloway Kite Trail" and the Galloway Forest Park, which offers visitors many opportunities to walk, climb, cycle, bird watch and to experience the UK's first dark sky park.

This region of Southwest Scotland is noted for its spectacular coastline, which provides a vast range of opportunities for the outdoor enthusiast to include wonderful walks, game, coarse and sea fishing as well as shooting, sailing and cycling. There are numerous beaches and sandy coves within easy reach of the property and the area boasts numerous golf courses.

Communications to the area are much improved with the A75 trunk road providing quick access from the south via the M6 & M74. The ferry links to Northern Ireland run from Cairnryan with Glasgow, Edinburgh & Newcastle airports within and easy driving distance. The nearest train stations are Dumfries, Lockerbie and Carlisle.
