FOREST MARBLE
PROPERTY SALES & LETTINGS

Call Forest Marble 24/7 to book your viewing on this character cottage which exudes charm and character. This beautiful property was originally built in the late 1700's for the poor of the village and subsequently became part of the Longleat estate. Sold in the 1940's to pay for Lord Baths death duties into private ownership. The current owner extended the property and it now offers flexible split level accommodation which will suit those who are after a spacious layout and a comfortable peaceful lifestyle. Outside you have classic front and rear cottage gardens and a double garage with additional workshop. To interact with the virtual tour please follow the link click here

What The Vendor Loves About Their Home

Having bought our family home in the early 1980's, the property required a lot of modernisation to suit our needs, however when driving around to find a suitable home we spotted this property and immediately fell in love with the chocolate box picture thatched cottage and its rural setting. Having enjoyed every moment of the peace and quiet this property offers, time has caught up and a move to something smaller is required. I love relaxing in the spacious lounges, I tend to use the larger one in the summer and the smaller one in the winter, so I can be by the large fireplace in the cooler months. Being an outdoors person the surrounding area is ideal for running or going for long walks across the open countryside. The house has changed how it has been used a lot over the years depending on how many of us were living in there at the time! I will truly miss my family home and have loved every bit of the forty years I have lived here, however now it is time for another custodian to live here and make it their own.
