Church Street, Willington

Sam says:

"This house has such a homely feel to it, it is situated on a fantastic corner plot with a lovely front and back garden and driveway parking leading to a single garage. Having had a kitchen extension, the home now has two reception rooms, one to the front and one to the back overlooking the garden through sliding patio doors. Upstairs there are two double bedrooms, one single and has a modern bathroom with a P shaped bath. The current owner has loved living here and i can see why!"

A message from the seller:

"I have lived on Churchside for around 40 years, I love the plot that it is on as it has so much space around it in a lovely friendly, quiet street. I also really like the fact it is located close to all amenities such as doctors, dentists, shops, the post office, pubs, cafes, bus stops and the train station. Due to personal circumstances, I am now having to move on but I know someone will be very happy here, just as I have been"
