Description

Dales Wood is situated about 5 miles north-east of Maidstone in Kent. It is within the Kent Downs Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB). It is situated in the heart of a larger woodland known as Newlands Wood. Tracks border the wood on all sides. It has great access along a stoned track to the south, west and north of the wood. A grassy track runs along the east boundary. It is an extremely private wood. The whole woodland is within a Kent Wildlife Trust Local Wildlife Site (download the citation and map from here).

Dales Wood provides a fantastic opportunity to own a chestnut coppiced woodland and would offer enjoyment for generations to come. Bluebells flourish in the spring, and there are other ancient woodland indicators including a woodbank inside the wood.

It is worth noting that woodland owners may be able to get relief from Inheritance Tax and Capital Gains Tax. More information on this can be found here. There may be adjacent woodland available here. If this is of interest, please contact the area managers for this region - ruthandjames@woodlands.co.uk

The purchasers of the woodland will be asked to enter into a covenant to ensure the quiet and peaceful enjoyment of adjoining woodlands and meadows.

Trees

Dales Wood is a mixed age sweet chestnut coppice which will be ready for coppicing in 5-7 years. It could be harvested in a series of small blocks known as 'coupes'. Hazel, hornbeam, field maple, birch and oak are found in the wood. It is worth noting that Woodlands.co.uk offer £300 towards a course for a new owner. This would provide the opportunity to learn the skills required to resume coppicing in the future. In the coming years this woodland has enormous potential to provide a steady and sustainable supply of excellent firewood.

Dales Wood has been designated as Ancient Semi-Natural Woodland \(ASNW\) by Natural England. This is woodland that has been under constant tree cover since at least 1600AD. It is valued as a rich reserve of biodiversity. There is a draft Management Plan for Newlands Wood (of which Dales Wood is a part) - details of this are available upon request. It is noted in management plan that stands are generally well stocked; the chestnut is of good quality, and they would lend themselves to management on a relatively short rotation, providing timber for either commercial or private use.

Wildlife

The Woodland Wildlife toolkit suggests the range of bird species including garden warbler, hawfinch, spotted flycatcher, willow warbler, lesser redpoll, lesser spotted woodpecker, tree pipit, marsh tit and woodcock might be present within the woodland, either breeding or over-wintering.

A new owner could install some bird boxes and build a simple hide to observe which species are present.

Local area and history

There are some features of potential local archaeological interest in the woodland including a woodbank inside the wood.

The wood is approx. 1 mile from the Kent Showground, home to the annual Kent County Show.
