Kingfishers

ANTLER HOMES

INTRODUCING

Kingfishers

Kingfishers is a collection of 27 new houses in the Hampshire village of Ashford Hill, built by the award-winning developer, Antler Homes. Choose from three-, four- or five-bedrooms, with some property types benefiting from a walk-in dressing area, bifold doors, a separate study, utility room, garage and extensive, open plan living area. The local landscape is enriched by new wildlife and wetland areas and you can feel a sense of peace and tranquility.

Village Life

WELCOME TO VILLAGE LIFE

If you were asked to describe an ideal English village, you would be describing Ashford Hill. Set between Newbury in Berkshire and Basingstoke in Hampshire – each less than 10 miles away – Ashford Hill brings together every day amenities, community spirit and the great British countryside. On the doorstep is a primary school, a village hall and a cricket club, with Badgers Wood country pub and a number of supermarkets a short drive away respectively.

While Ashford Hill's pretty thatched cottages and an elegant Victorian, gothic-style church tell stories from the past, one of the village's most iconic buildings is trailblazing for the future. The Ship Inn Arts Centre is a place for music, arts, crafts and wellbeing, combined with the facilities of a country house hotel.

Countryside

AT HOME IN THE COUNTRYSIDE

An aerial view of Ashford Hill reveals the true extent of Kingfishers' countryside setting. Country lanes edged with bountiful hedgerows, a patchwork of arable fields and dense woodland provide a verdant buffer between the village and nearby towns.

One of the village's richest natural assets is Ashford Hill Nature Reserve that is, in part, a designated Site of Special Scientific Interest and home to the development's namesake, the kingfisher. Follow signposted trails to meander through meadows, wetlands and woodlands, spotting 40 species of birds, 32 species of butterfly, and a wide variety of flowering plants and insects. The nature reserve is part of the wider Ashford Hill Woods and Meadows – a biologically rich valley spanning 351 acres.

TOWN NEIGHBOURS: NEWBURY & BASINGSTOKE

The nearby towns of Newbury and Basingstoke provide an exciting contrast to Ashford Hill. Newbury expertly blends past and present, with a fascinating heritage, an attractive riverside location and an impressive food scene. Among its heritage buildings and cute lanes are independent eateries offering everything from small plates to à la carte specialties. Combine this with a thriving café culture, a heady mix of shops and Newbury racecourse and you have the perfect market town.

Newbury and Basingstoke

Basingstoke is packed full of places to shop, socialise and even thrill seek. The town centre itself features a cluster of big brand stores, buzzing bars and familiar restaurants, while the train station is one of Hampshire's main commuter hubs. Basingstoke Leisure Park is home to the Milestone Museum, indoor skydiving, a virtual reality paragliding experience, the pool and fitness Aquadrome complex, a cinema, an ice rink, an adventure golf and a bowling alley.

Education

ENROL IN EDUCATIONAL EXCELLENCE

Local friendships and family links are fostered at Ashford Hill Primary School in the heart of the village. A nursery setting can be found at nearby Grantham Farm Montessori, with Brimpton C.E. Primary School and Burnham Copse Primary School also in close proximity. Secondary school education is provided by The Hurst School, while there is an excellent choice of independent options nearby, including Cheam, Tadley Court and Elstree.
