This is a rare treat – a bungalow sitting in spacious gardens that are totally private, near the river and open countryside. It's spacious and light, practical and attractive, ideal for any family or couple. The outlook is exceptional and the peace and tranquility precious, the beauty of nature and the charm of the historic setting making this a place you'll want to call home.

A Lovely Location

Perfectly positioned with its own plot of around 1/3 of an acre, this delightful home offers the opportunity to embrace country life without compromising on amenities. It's been much loved by the family who currently own the property and it's easy to see the appeal. This is a popular holiday spot, with plenty of things to see and do, yet it's also home to a year-round community, so whilst it's more peaceful in winter, you never feel isolated. The openness of the setting and the far-reaching views mean it's hard to tear your eyes away!

Cleverly Configured

The layout has been thoughtfully designed and works very well. To one side you have three good size double bedrooms, the principal bedroom with an en-suite and the other two sharing the family bathroom. To the other side of the property you'll find the reception rooms, with the kitchen breakfast room sitting in the literal heart of the home. The main sitting room has a feature fireplace and a fabulous box bay window framing the outlook. Double doors open onto the reception hall to one side and the dining room to the other. The latter would work well as a playroom or snug for a family and has gorgeous views over to the 11th century village church across open fields.

KEY FEATURES

Entertaining Space

Moving into the spacious kitchen breakfast room, you'll find it a wonderfully sociable part of the home, perfect for entertaining and for day-to-day family life. A useful utility tucked away to the rear of the home allows you to keep your laundry and muddy boots away from the rest of the accommodation. There's a comfortable flow throughout the reception rooms and kitchen that makes it ideal for family gatherings.

Well Connected

Outside, the large garage has been divided into two and you could have a games room here or create a home office, subject to planning. There's plenty of parking to the front of the property, but it's to the rear that the garden really comes into its own. There's so much birdlife here, attracted by the river, marshes and hedgerows, as well as hedgehogs, deer and more. You're a stone's throw from the River Yare and the Broads and you have riverfront pubs and a pretty tearoom a short walk from your front door. The village benefits from the Reedham nursery and primary school, shop, village hall and train station. If you're keen to travel south of the river, Reedham Ferry will take you over the water.

INFORMATION

On The Doorstep

The village has a train station taking you to Lowestoft or Norwich in 15 mins, with a connecting train from Norwich taking you on to London in 90mins. There is also a bus service to Gt Yarmouth. The sea front offers the Marina and Sea Life Centre amid a wide variety of shops and tourist attractions.
