PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

Hardingley Farm Copley Lane Shelley between the villages of Cumberworth and Shepley and between the townships of Holmfirth and Wakefield.

Set in a spectacular location, Hardingley Farm is steeped in history and sits beautifully within 20 acres of delightful farmland which includes a wooded area with a beck passing through. This much-loved family home has been in the family for three generations and is a fabulous combination of beautiful stone farmhouse with an attached cottage and an attached stone two storey barn. There are additional stone buildings, one of which is two storey and detached and is situated within the courtyard. There are six stables, farm office / tack room and a delightful range of modern farm buildings totalling approximately 5000 Sq. ft. The accommodation within the house is flexible and is of a good size and layout that is particularly pleasing, taking full advantage of all the wonderful beams, delightful, mullioned windows, and stunning stone fireplaces. The cottage equally has many period features and whilst currently independent, could easily provide further accommodation for the principal home if so desired. The attached barn could also provide additional accommodation, or several homes could be created. With delightful yard spaces, cobbled courtyard and a secret garden with summerhouse, the surrounding fields compliment the home superbly. The farm is gently positioned off this rural lane yet is within a five-minute drive from major A roads, giving easy access to Wakefield, Huddersfield, Sheffield, Holmfirth and beyond. With an additional 7.5 acres of land located nearby that may be available by separate negotiation, this is a rare and exciting opportunity to those who require a spectacular location, an unbelievable balance between old and new and a huge amount of potential. Hardingley Farm must be given serious consideration for future generations of enjoyment. Brochure with detailed floor layout plans demonstrate the flexibility and the current layout.
