OYSTER QUAY

In 1987, Oyster Quay became the signature centrepiece at the head of the Port Solent Marina, which had been created as a marina village in the mid 1980s, with the intention of mimicking Mediterranean living similar to Port Grimaud in France.

It was architect designed and built by Regalian Homes to a luxury standard. Apartments and penthouses enjoy a communal leisure centre and private grounds, with extensive parking and garaging, including barbeque and fishponds.

All apartments have balconies overlooking Port Solent Marina, and The Boardwalk, restaurants, shops offices and David Lloyd Leisure Centre. This is considered to be one of the most prestigious marinas in the UK.

Many apartments have berths visible from the balcony, reserved parking spaces, and garages. Visitor parking spaces are also available.

There are 167 one-, two-, and three-bedroom apartments, accessed by nine separate entrances, each with lift and stairs. Each landing serves only three apartments.

A Resident Manager with two assistants, operating from the site office, maintain the buildings and grounds and collect rubbish from apartments six mornings per week
