The Property

A magnificent and historic Grade II Listed country house, Apperley Farm stands in imposing fashion to overlook extensive grounds that encompass elegant formal gardens, an orchard, woodland and fabulous equestrian facilities served by well-maintained paddocks. The beautiful six bedroom stone-built house was originally built in the 17th century and was home to the local Boutflower family until 1766. Major work to extend and remodel was undertaken around 1930 by Lord Gort, a notable figure in the British Army in the 20th century. The property today displays all the hallmarks of a fascinating history, with features including original door surrounds, fireplaces and charming beamed ceilings along with stone mullioned and leaded windows.

The stout and sturdy oak front door offers a characteristically striking welcome, leading through a vestibule to the grand hall with access to the ground floor accommodation and wide oak staircase rising to the first floor. To the east of the hall is the expansive drawing room, a stunning reception room with windows to all four sides and an impressive fireplace of stone and brick with a warming woodburning stove. On the opposite side of the hall is the dining room for wonderful formal occasions. Entertaining and dining can be enjoyed beneath the eye-catching timber ceiling beams whilst maple flooring runs underfoot. Adjoining the dining room is the sitting room with further relaxing reception space. Both rooms benefit from a southerly outlook over the formal gardens.

The kitchen/breakfast room is spacious yet also homely and cosy, with a traditional country house style and atmosphere married with the modern luxury of underfloor heating. The fine range of cabinetry houses quality integrated appliances and boasts granite worksurfaces, as does the complementary central island. The centrepiece is a wonderful traditional oil-fired AGA with electric companion set within a wide inglenook with exposed brickwork, timber mantel over and charming period tiling. The room flows on to offer plenty of space for a table and chairs for day-to-day dining.

A staircase from the rear corner climbs to the first floor and there is access to a rear hall with external doors to front and back. The kitchen is served by an adjoining laundry/utility room and a walk-in pantry. The ground floor is completed by a useful WC and a boot room to the rear, perfect for muddy boots when returning from a day of equestrian activity or local exploration.

There are five bedrooms arranged across the first floor, all appointed in crisp, elegant style for absolute relaxation. In addition to the bedrooms there is also an office, ideal for working from home. There is great versatility to configure the first floor accommodation for individual requirements, with the option to create a nursery, play room, further study space or a hobby room. The bedrooms are served by a bathroom and a separate shower room. The bathroom has a sleek contemporary suite incorporating bath, shower cubicle and heated towel rail along with a wash hand basin and WC set in a vanity unit. The shower room features a shower with wash hand basin and WC. Another separate WC adds further practicality.

A concealed staircase from the first floor hall leads up to the second floor and the bright and airy principal suite. Light décor and subtle lighting highlight the exposed beams. The expansive bedroom has a private dressing room and a fully tiled en-suite shower room with a contemporary boutique style.

The property also has a basement with ample storage space, and also additional attic space that could potentially be developed, subject to securing the necessary consents.

Externally

Apperley Farm is set in extensive gardens and grounds extending in all to around 11.79 acres and approached along a private woodland drive that approaches the western elevation. The formal gardens extend away from the front elevation in a southerly direction to capture the best of the sunlight throughout the day and at all times of the year. Manicured lawns are separated and defined by colourful plantings and attractive topiary, with the whole garden surrounded by handsome Grade II Listed stone walls. A summerhouse sits to one side with patio and outdoor seating space.

Beyond the formal garden there is an orchard of 250 apple trees, whilst an area of woodland to the west provides shelter and privacy. For the keen cottage gardener there is a vegetable garden with raised beds and a greenhouse. Garden stores and a gardener's WC adjoin the garage which is to the rear of the house. The garage provided secure parking and also has an upper floor with more useful storage space. A separate purpose-built outbuilding houses the biomass boiler and a fuel store for the boiler pellets.

The equestrian facilities will be hugely appealing to any interested parties looking for a comprehensive yet manageable set up in a beautiful location. The south-facing wooden stable block incorporates three loose boxes with a tack room and adjoining hay store. Mains electricity and water are connected. Hardstanding in front of the stables links directly to the superb 40m x 20m floodlit arena which is well-fenced and secure. A holding paddock of around 0.5 acres connects to the main paddock which extends to approximately 7 acres of excellent level land, stretching from the house and including the apple trees. Both paddocks benefit from water supplies, and a field shelter is nestled to one side of the main field.
