Location

Coille Oisinn Forest or otherwise known locally as Bettys Wood is located at the southeastern end of the larger Overscaig forest complex next to the A838 public road on the edge of Loch Shin, near Lairg in Sutherland.

The area is renowned for its wild and dramatic scenery with access to some excellent fishing and deer stalking and for its good road network to the east and west coasts of the north of Scotland, linking with the North Coast 500 route. Lairg is the nearest village with local amenities, accommodation and further east are the towns of Dornoch, Tain and the City of Inverness 60 miles to the south.

To locate the woodland please refer to the location and sale plans and the nearest property postcode can be found at Overscaig IV274NY for directions by road.

Description

The forest was established on former hill ground overlooking Loch Shin over a period of three planting seasons from 1982 to 1984 with Sitka spruce planted in a self-thinning mixture with Lodgepole pine on ploughed ground.

Now forty years on and the timber crop is nearing maturity whereby harvesting could be considered within the next 5 years or left to grow on and increase the harvestable timber volume. The stocked area amounts to approximately 81.90 hectares with the dominant Sitka spruce growing at a yield class of 8 - 10 m³/Ha/Yr and the lower canopy crop of Lodgepole pine at a yield class of 6 which is expected to produce a significant volume of timber when harvested.

Parts of the forest were left unplanted for access rides and clearings as well as an overhead electricity line which passes through the property which provide good opportunities for woodland deer stalking with Red, Sika and Roe deer found within the forest complex.

Species	Planted			Area/Ha
Sitka Spruce / Lodgepole Pine	18.40	16.70	46.80	81.90

Total				91.40

Access

The forest entrance is located at the southeastern corner of the property next to Fiag Bridge and the A838 public road. The forest access road then passes through a locked gate and continues up through the forest from point A1 to the northern boundary at point A2, as shown on the sale plan.

This route is shared with the other owners within the Overscaig forest complex to the north and maintenance is shared according to its use. Coille Oisinn Forest also benefits from having a long established quarry next to the A838 with its own access, shown at point A3 on the sale plan. This was specifically used for the supply of good quality stone for road improvements on the A838 and could be a valuable supply of stone for forest road improvements in the future.

The A838 is a Consultation Route for timber haulage to the various timber markets located around Inverness and further east.

Sporting & Mineral Rights

The sporting rights are included with woodland deer stalking as well as riparian fishing rights along the western bank of the pretty River Fiag which flows down the eastern boundary of the forest, providing the opportunity to fish for Brown trout.

The mineral rights are included in terms of the title with the exception of those reserved by statute.

Boundaries

The forest is enclosed within a deer fence that runs along the eastern and southern boundary of Coille Oisinn Forest and then around the perimeter of the wider Overscaig Forest complex.

Maintenance is currently shared according to the proportion of planted area per ownership enclosed within the forest complex ring fence which is 7.3% for Coille Oisinn Forest. Ownership along the eastern boundary extends beyond the deer fence to the middle of the River Fiag and public road to the south.

Third Party Rights & Burdens

The Property will be sold subject to and with the benefit of all servitude rights, burdens, reservations, and third-party rights in the title.
