FINE & COUNTRY

This wonderful family home, when originally constructed in 1954 was an apple farm and today many of the original trees and apple stores still exist. The 5 acres of land has since been converted into equestrian use with menage and stables.

The detached house has five bedrooms, a lovely open plan kitchen room, lounge and conservatory offering flexible accommodation. The property, offering great family living and is double glazed throughout.

In a fabulous rural setting on the outskirts of Bentley village, yet only 5 miles from the thriving town of Manningtree and it's railway station with links to London.

In addition to the equestrian facility the property provides, there are plenty of opportunities for hacks locally including the adjacent 400 acre wood (for a small annual fee).

Approached along a long gravel drive through the beautiful front garden, the front door opens to

About The Area

In "Constable country", Bentley is small rural village approximately eight miles south of Ipswich, fourteen miles from Colchester and five miles from Manningtree. There is ideal road access out onto the A12.

The village has a community shop and pub, village hall and primary school.

The thriving town of Ipswich is set on the estuary of the River Orwell and has undergone an extensive gentrification programme in recent years, mainly around the waterfront and has become a popular "commutable" town to London.

Excellent sailing and golfing facilities are both available nearby or on the popular Suffolk Heritage Coast.
