The garden is exceptionally well stocked and provides a wonderful display of flowers and shrubs throughout the year particularly from the spring. There are different seating areas and the rear hedge adjoins the farmland there are too many plants to mention, but there are several mature trees including sycamore, willow, fig and apple trees. Some of the flowering shrubs include a variety of roses and clematis, lots of buddleia and oxeye daisies.

 There is a current planning permission for a two storey extension to the rear of the property to form a large kitchen/breakfast room and an additional bedroom.
