THE BUZZ OF BERMONDSEY

Southwark has seen many changes in recent years, and Bermondsey has emerged as one of the UK's best places to call home. The district beat neighbourhoods from across the country, topping a 2018 Sunday Times survey, and it's still on the up, as a place where residents from all walks of life can thrive.

Southwark Park Galleries - 16 mins 🚶

Few postcodes are as quiet and yet as central as SE16. The next wave of independent shops and cafés is moving South, from Borough and London Bridge. Weekends can provide trips to Kino Cinema, the White Cube gallery, plus a host of creative studios, artisans' shops and vibrant project spaces.

The Ham & Cheese Co. - 7 mins 🚶

St James Of Bermondsey - 4 mins 🚶

Café Amisha - 10 mins 🚶

José Tapas Bar - 21 mins 🚶

Bermondsey Street - 21 mins 🚶

Food and drink really come first here. Try Crol and Co, an independent coffee shop by day and hip bar by night; also nearby is The Little Bread Pedlar, who offer quality loaves and pastries baked the sustainable way. Café Amisha offers designer dining just a short stroll away; and as you get closer to Borough Market the food offerings proliferate – Pique-Nique is fabulous for both food and a French vibe. Bermondsey also has a wealth of breweries and tap rooms, plus a celebrated ‘Beer Mile’ which nearly extends to your doorstep.

GREEN SPACES

In a fast moving city, Bermondsey is a great place to settle, a place with industrial heritage and unique charm. This pastoral atmosphere is generated by a fine array of civic parks, hidden green spaces and those grand public gardens which act as the lungs for London.

Southwark Park is your nearest picnic destination, a charming London green space complete with boating lake, bandstand, tennis courts and football pitches. Nature lovers will appreciate the meadows, streams and wetlands of Stave Hill Ecological Park; it's a conservation area run by volunteers home to butterflies, dragonflies and bats. A lesser-known side of London can be found at the Downings Roads Floating Gardens, a mooring of Thameside barges where the greenery has taken over. Open for the general public to explore on open garden days.

Southwark Park Bandstand - 15 mins 🚶

Southwark Park Pavilion Cafe - 17 mins 🚶

THE ARCHITECTURE

école has been designed to harmonise with the neighbourhood, the foot print follows the pattern of historic terrace housing on the site. Light was a top priority when designing the apartments, meaning many of the apartments have dual aspect. Breaks and colour variations in the brick elevations add both textural interest whilst referencing the local vernacular, especially the weathered yellow stock of the nearby Thorburn Square conservation area.

The attractive buildings surround a well-planted, communal courtyard. The detailed landscape design creates a series of green spaces from the ground floor courtyard, to the roof terrace and green roofs. Apartments and duplexes offer gardens or balconies, most benefit from inspiring views over the green spaces which abuts école.
