Guide Price - £725,000 Freehold

A recently completed, brand new high spec, detached bungalow tucked away in an exclusive, traffic free setting within one of West Cornwall's most highly sought after village locations.

The Property

This newly constructed and uniquely appointed bungalow oozes not only a quality build and luxury feel, but also a rustic character, thanks to the extensive use of natural timber as demonstrated in the artisan bespoke kitchen, various work tops and shelving and beautifully crafted joinery throughout.

It is a home designed to be energy efficient, so not only is it highly insulated, it is warmed by underfloor heating, powered by an air source heat pump that also provides the domestic hot water through a pressurised system.

The hamlet of St Hilary Churchtown is one of the most highly regarded addresses on Cornwall's south coast. Rubbing shoulders with The Old Vicarage, The Rectory, the church and respective primary school, the property is one of two accessed from a privately owned lane, which in turn extends off a public byway.

Whilst enjoying such a peaceful and sheltered setting, the village shop/Post Office and two public houses are what for many will be a 10 minute walk away in Goldsithney, plus the previously mentioned primary school.

The spacious and free-flowing accommodation starts with a generous hallway with coats cupboard, leading into the central internal hall. Radiating off the hall is the large kitchen/diner, which opens into a striking lounge with a vaulted ceiling and bi-fold doors, the focal point of which is a beautiful suspended wood burner that rotates 360°. There are three double bedrooms, the principal of which has a luxurious en-suite bathroom, and there is also a house bathroom with a walk-in shower.

The consideration given to the detail and ease of ownership of this beautiful home is remarkable, as the spec includes a whole house mechanical ventilation system, helping prevent mould and condensation. An incredibly high level specification continues outside where there is a fabulous 6.6m x 5.6m double garage with electric door, a carport and a superb 6m x 4m workshop/summerhouse/studio built in a log cabin style with an insulated roof, bi-fold doors and wood burner.

The show piece gardens that extend around the bungalow are level and sheltered and have been designed for ease of maintenance, whilst at the same time being interesting and inviting.

Location

Just 2 ½ miles to the south-west is the ancient coastal town of Marazion which overlooks the world famous St Michael's Mount, a historic tidal island, castle and garden set within Mount's Bay. The long sandy beach stretches west from here in the direction of Penzance, an ancient market town and port, it is the largest town in West Cornwall and at just over 6 miles away it boasts an enviable range of local and national retailers and supermarkets, a choice of state and private schooling and the Penzance hospital. In addition to a mainline railway station, there is both a sea and helicopter link to the beautiful Isles of Scilly, 24 miles south-west of Land's End. West Cornwall is renowned for its rich and intriguing culture and past, and it is all 'on the doorstep'. For those needing to travel further afield, Truro, Cornwall's main centre for healthcare, schooling, commerce and administration, is 22 miles away and so potentially commutable on a daily basis, whilst the A30 railway and bus links provide quick and easy access into, around and out of the County.
