THE LOCATION:

Ferryside is a small seaside village situated near the mouth of the River Towy. This area is known as the Three Rivers Estuary of Carmarthen Bay as the rivers Taf, Towy, and Gwendraeth meet and enter the sea here. The village provides a primary school, general store (in throes of being opened) and doctor's surgery, village hall for events and functions, church, pub, restaurant and cafe, bus services, and railway station on the line from Carmarthen to Swansea. New community centre. The Three Rivers Hotel offers a restaurant and bar and incorporates a gym/fitness centre, spa facilities, and a heated indoor swimming pool (open to the public on a membership basis), as well as a business conference room. There is a sailing club, delightful sandy beaches, and coastal walks with wonderful views, including Llansteffan castle across the bay. Ferryside was named after an ancient ferry route that once crossed the estuary from here to Llansteffan. It grew up as a fishing village, but really developed after the arrival of the railway in the mid-19th Century. This estuary area has always been well known for its cockle beds and Ferryside was at the centre of the cockling industry in past times. It is a lovely area for bird-watching both in the countryside and along the coast, especially in the winter months when numbers are boosted by arrivals from colder climates to feed in the rich mudflats and salt marshes. The village is connected to the National Cycle Network. The ferry, (amphibious boat), has been re-instated to take people across to Llansteffan. More information can be found on www.carmarthenbayferries.com.

Llansteffan is directly across the Towy estuary from Ferryside, but is 16 miles away by car, with pubs, a boat club, a beautiful sandy beach, and the impressive remains of a 12th Century Norman castle on the headland overlooking the water and enjoying stunning views as far as the Gower Peninsula. This is also an ideal place to enjoy walking, bird-watching, fishing, and sailing. The lovely Scott's Bay is just around the headland and can be reached along a scenic cliff footpath. St. Anthony's well, which was said to have healing waters, is on the hilltop above the beach. Laugharne is also across the water westerly, situated on the Taf estuary, but 20 miles distant by car. This distinctive town has its own beach and Norman castle ruins. Laugharne became renowned for being home to the poet Dylan Thomas, who penned "Under Milk Wood" at the Boat House. He is buried in the local churchyard with his wife Caitlin. The town offers a variety of good restaurants and hostleries – including Brown's Hotel where Dylan Thomas held court.

Kidwelly is 3 miles from the property, with a primary school, doctor's surgery, post office, library, small supermarket, newsagent, cafes, pubs, and a railway halt on the West Wales line. This is a small, historic town, believed to date back to c.1115, and dominated by an imposing, well preserved early 12th Century Norman castle, built in the reign of King Henry I, and overlooks the tidal lower reaches of the Gwendraeth Fach river. (The castle was notably depicted in a watercolour painting by the great artist J.M.W. Turner.) The town also has a fine Norman church. On the northern outskirts of the town is Kidwelly Museum, displaying machinery and tools used in the former tinplate works (1737 to 1941) and former coal mining and brick manufacturing industries important to the region in bygone times. Kidwelly offers natural coves, woodland, and a nature reserve. There are public footpaths and planned walks around the area and the town is connected to the National Cycle Network.

Carmarthen is 8 miles north of the property, the ancient county town and administrative centre combining an old world charm of quaint narrow streets and traditional shops with bustling markets and modern shopping amenities including well known stores such as Debenhams, Next, Marks & Spencer, Monsoon, Curry's, Tesco, Argos, etc., and there is a Multi-screen Cinema, along with pubs, clubs, hotels, restaurants, theatre, art galleries, leisure centre, swimming pool, schools, University college, West Wales General Hospital, heritage centre, and county museum. The railway station is on the West Wales line (for Pembrokeshire and to Swansea-Cardiff-Bristol-London), and main roads radiate out to all regions, including the A40, A48/M4-link road, A484 and A485. Carmarthen stands on the meandering Towy river just before it begins its 12 mile estuary down to the bay.

Burry Port is 9 miles south-easterly, situated along the estuary of the river Loughor, (the Burry Inlet), on the sweeping coastline of Carmarthen Bay, with Pembrey Mountain gently rising behind the town. Burry Port boasts an attractive harbour and picturesque lighthouse, together with good local amenities including a selection of individual shops and businesses, banks, post office, convenience stores, schools, library, sports centre, police station, doctor's and dentist's practices, optician, chemist, pubs, restaurants and eateries, and a railway station. .

Llanelli is 11 miles or so south-east of the property, an attractive town on the Burry Inlet, and well known for its proud rugby tradition. This is the largest town in Carmarthenshire, and has a number of satellite villages collectively known as "Llanelli Rural". The town provides good shopping amenities with various supermarkets including Iceland, Asda, and Tesco, and a large covered market, (the origins of the marketplace date back to the 13th Century), schools, F.E. college, theatre/cinema, pubs and restaurants, railway station, medical and dental services, and general hospital. There is a leisure centre with swimming pool, spa and sauna facilities, sports hall, squash courts, gymnasium, etc., and also an indoor bowls centre.

The Millennium Coastal Park opened in 2002 is on Llanelli's shoreline, and offers extensive beaches, dunes, salt marshes, a water sports centre, fishing lakes, woodlands, public arts and visitor centre, superb views, and a long connecting footpath and cycle track, (the Millennium Coastal Path and Cycle Route). Some 2,000 acres of neglected wasteland was reclaimed along with about 13 miles of coastline to bring back the natural seashore environment for people to enjoy and is now a wildlife nature conservation reserve at the edge of the Loughor Estuary (Burry Inlet), with marshes, lakes, and reed beds alive with wildlife.

Swansea, the second largest city in Wales, is 24 miles south-east, with The Wales National Swimming Pool, (Olympic-size), theatres, concert halls and museums, bus and railway stations, and a vibrant night life serviced by numerous clubs, bars, cafes and restaurants. Beautifully situated on the sweeping Swansea Bay shoreline, the city has sandy beaches with safe bathing, an excellent Yachting Marina and Maritime Quarter, numerous waterfront bars and eateries, museums, art galleries, the National Literature Centre, (dedicated to Dylan Thomas, who was born in Swansea), and an observatory. Swansea has a number of fine public parks, including the extensive Clyne Gardens & Country Park with follies, streams, bridges, and a castle, as well as superb views across the bay, and Singleton Park which has a Swiss Cottage, Boating Lake, and Botanical and Herb gardens.
