LOCATION

Enfield is a strategically located and well established town with an urban population of 338,000 people, which increases to 4.5 million people within a 20km distance. The town benefits from first-rate motorway links around London due to its proximity to the A10 arterial route and Junction 25 of the M25.

The strength of the location has attracted a large number of recognisable retail and trade occupiers to the immediate area. Enfield Retail Park, Colosseum Retail Park and De Mandeville are located within walking distance of Otago Trade Park.

Nearby occupiers include Travis Perkins, Formula One Autocentres, Selco, Halfords, B&Q and several other widely known retailers.

CONNECTIVITY

Otago Trade Park is located on the west side of Crown Road, some 100m from the junction with Southbury Road. Rail links to Central London are available at Southbury Station, which is only 3 minute's walk to the south. There are a number of bus routes close by with Enfield Town just 1 mile to the west.
