Wythwood is a select cul-de-sac of 12 large detached houses located off Rookery Way, which is regarded as one of the town's best kept secrets and forms part of the Fox Hill area of Haywards Heath. Fox Hill is a prime residential area on the town's southern edge and has always been popular with families and is even more so now the new Haywards Heath/A272 relief road is open, giving swift access out to the Warden Park Secondary Academy in Cuckfield and the A23 at Bolney to the west. Countryside is close by interspersed with footpaths and bridleways linking with the neighbouring districts. Fox Hill has its own pub/restaurant and within a short walk is a Sainsbury's local store on Wivelsfield Road. The town centre is about a mile to the north where there is an extensive range of shops, stores, restaurants, cafes and bars, 6th form college and leisure centre. A regular bus service runs along Fox Hill linking with the town centre and mainline railway station and is the bus stop for Warden Park and Chailey secondary schools. Schools: St Wilfrid's Primary (0.7 miles); St Joseph's R C Primary (1 mile); Northlands Wood (0.8 miles). A new primary school is to be built off Hurstwood Lane close by. The area is well served by some excellent independent schools (which all provide a school bus service with pick up points close by) including: Great Walstead, Cumnor House, Ardingly College, Burgess Hill Girls and Brighton College.
