12 Firthland Road is a quirky character property, converted around 20 years ago to create a two-storey property. In all the house amounts to just over 800 ft.². which in brief comprises the following. Entrance vestibule leading through to the hallway, open plan kitchen with separate dining area, sitting room, rear porch and a ground floor wet room. Upstairs are two bedrooms and the house bathroom. The landing is of a generous size and could easily accommodate a study area if needed.

To the rear is an enclosed courtyard style garden, largely hard landscaped for ease of maintenance. There is off street parking and a detached stone and pantile garage, which measures 5.55 m x 5.50 m and provides parking and workshop/storage space.

Pickering is a bustling market town, famous for its castle and steam railway, and located on the southern boundary of the North York Moors National Park and close to the heritage coastline.
