Located at Wallcrouch in East Sussex - hamlet of properties located between Wadhurst and Ticehurst - a most impressively enhanced and extended, attached property with early 18th century origins now offering fantastic reception spaces on the ground floor and four good sized bedrooms over the upper two storeys. Considerable thought, care and effort has been involved in extending the property to include a large and impressive dining area, a beautiful contemporary kitchen and a separate snug, itself part of the much older building. A glance at the attached floorplan will give an indication as to the nature of the property. What is perhaps readily less apparent are the beautiful views to one side across open countryside to Bewl Water, the sheer individuality of this property and also the impressive gardens which are essentially lower maintenance with excellent entertaining space and generous parking arrangements in the form of a large driveway and parking area behind electric gates and further one and half sized oak garage. Properties of this individual nature are rarely available - certainly in such a beautiful spot - and to this end we would encourage all interested parties to make an immediate appointment to view.

Access is via a partially glazed, double glazed door with an inset panel leading to:

Georgian style double glazed windows to the side, Velux to the rear and further Velux to the front with picture views across adjacent countryside toward Bewl Water in the distance.

OUTSIDE:

The property's gardens are to the most part lower maintenance with a large paved area adjacent to the bi-folding doors in the dining room area with a huge space for garden furniture and for entertaining. There is a large gravelled driveway with parking for numerous vehicles including a large one and a half sized Garage, with additional wood and plant storage areas. The property has retaining wooden fencing with areas of raised shrub beds and further areas of stone chipping. There is an area of lawn adjacent to the road side with a fruit tree and further raised bedding areas. External tap. Beautiful views towards Bewl Water in the distance.

SITUATION:

The hamlet of Wallcrouch is primarily spread along the connecting road between Wadhurst and Ticehurst in East Sussex. To this end, it has ready access to beautiful open areas of Wealden countryside with the two aforementioned larger villages both offering a good selection of shops and facilities for every day needs including - in Wadhurst, two mini supermarkets, doctors and dentists, well regarded primary and secondary schools and a host of further everyday retailers. In Ticehurst there are additional retailers and the particularly well regarded Bell Inn. Wadhurst has a main line railway station serving both London termini and the South Coast and the larger town of Tunbridge Wells is a modest distance to the north with a far fuller range of social, retail and educational facilities.
