In the idyllic village of Wormegay, Castle Meadow is a magnificent Grade II listed Georgian home dating from 1754, offered to the market with no onward chain. Rich in character and history, this elegant property is accompanied by its own Norman motte and bailey castle mound - widely regarded by archaeological experts as the best preserved in Norfolk.

Recognised in Pevsner's Buildings of England (North-West & South Norfolk volume, pp. 787-788), Castle Meadow's story began with a wealthy King's Lynn merchant who built this gracious home atop the remnants of an earlier 16th- or 17th-century cottage. Echoes of this layered past remain today, with a gargoyle from a nearby medieval priory and stone crosses thoughtfully built into the structure itself.

Inside, Castle Meadow offers five bedrooms over three storeys (plus cellar), with an abundance of period features: elegant sash windows, intricate fireplaces, and classic Georgian proportions which fill the interiors with light and charm. The ground floor flows beautifully for modern living while retaining the grandeur of its historic origins.

Outside, the grounds are simply magical and extend to approximately 2.5 acres (stms). Mature gardens roll gently towards the ancient Norman motte, built in the wake of the 1066 Conquest to guard the Nar Valley. Once a proud fortress, the original wooden castle was lost to history following the fall of Thomas Bardolf at the Battle of Bramham Moor in 1408 - but its spirit lives on, offering breathtaking views across the meadows towards Shouldham Warren and the wildlife-rich lands of the Watatunga Reserve.

Adding to the flexibility, a separate two-bedroom annexe - built in the 1970s - offers an ideal space for extended family, guests, or even holiday accommodation (subject to the necessary permissions). In its more recent past, the property served as Castle Farm, playing a key role in the local rural landscape through the mid-20th century.

Set in a wonderfully peaceful location, Castle Meadow enjoys excellent connectivity - being moments from the A10 and A134, and just a short drive to Watlington railway station with direct links to Cambridge and London. The historic towns of King's Lynn and Downham Market are nearby, and the North Norfolk coast is easily accessible for glorious days by the sea.

For those seeking a home with deep roots, timeless beauty, and a sense of living history, Castle Meadow offers an unparalleled opportunity.

WHERE HISTORY
EMBRACES SERENITY

The village of Wormegay is located approximately seven miles from the historic town of King's Lynn.

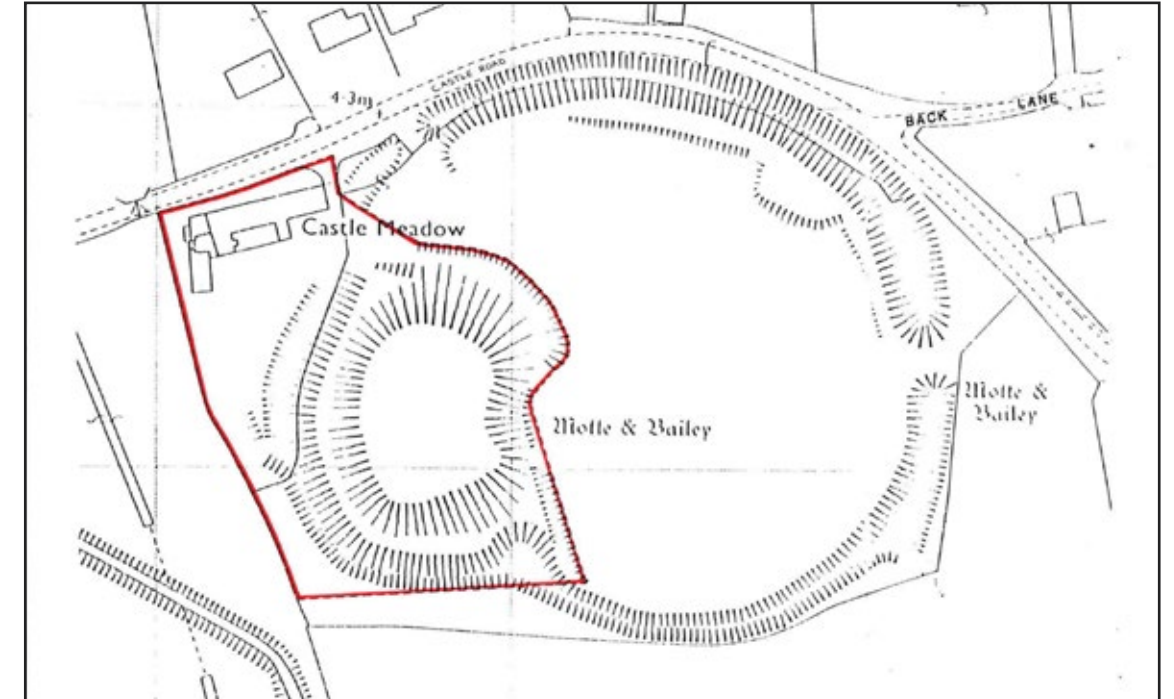

A peaceful village setting yet well-positioned close to the A10, one of the village's most notable landmarks is the adjacent Wormegay Castle – a unique earthwork motte-and-bailey fortress. The large motte is encircled on three sides by a two-metre-deep ditch.

Close to other nearby villages such as Tottenhill, Shouldham and Setchey, local amenities are within easy reach. However, perched on the banks of the River Ouse, nearby King's Lynn offers the most comprehensive town facilities.

A centre of trade and industry since the Middle Ages, King's Lynn's rich history is reflected in the many beautiful buildings that still line its historic quarter.

King Street, which runs from Tuesday Market Place to the Custom House, was once known as 'Stockfish Row' due to the number of fish merchants who lived there. With a listed building every 26 feet, Sir John Betjeman described it as one of the finest walks in England.

With Cambridge, Peterborough and Norwich all within an hour's drive of the town, a direct rail line into London King's Cross – reaching the capital in just 1 hour and 40 minutes – can be accessed from nearby Watlington, making it ideal for residents of Wormegay. Thanks to the excellent connectivity offered by this part of West Norfolk, growing numbers of professionals - who are seeking an easy commute - are being drawn to the area, along with the glorious Norfolk countryside.
