The Beach is a popular, private “off grid” location accessed via a private roadway serving only the chalet and sailing club on the West Norfolk coastline. Only around 6 miles to the South of Hunstanton and around 13 miles to the North of King’s Lynn, this secluded spot remains convenient for access to local amenities whilst still feeling tucked out of the way. Well known as an important location for many bird species with fantastic migrations from late summer to early winter, the RSPB Nature Reserve is within walking distance as is the lively Snettisham Beach Sailing Club which holds regular sailing and social events with new members welcomed. 79 The Beach is well positioned just past the sailing club with a plot which extends from the seaward bank on one side down to the lake on the other. There is room for vehicular parking or boat storage just off the roadway and a garden area with direct access down onto the lake, owned by the RSPB, where there is potential for sailing, kayaking and paddleboarding via membership at the sailing club. The static caravan sited on the plot is 35ft in length and is orientated to make the most of the views over the lake and nature reserve in the distance. There is the benefit of a solar panel with battery storage along with bottled gas connection powering a recently installed water heater, gas cooker and connection for a gas fridge.
