Maplestead Wood, Gosfield, Essex . 2.72 acres, £55,000 (freehold)

A wonderful mix of oak, beech and birch with ample scope for both family recreation and a keen woodland hobbyist, two miles north of Braintree.

Forming part of a larger woodland, Maplestead Wood is located on the periphery of Gosfield village in rural Essex, with both Colchester and Chelmsford within easy reach. Access is via locked gates and along a track.

Established on level loamy clay soils near the southwest of the wider wood, piercing evening sunshine filters through the trees on clear evenings. Designated as a Plantation on Ancient Woodland Site (PAWS), the mature canopy principally consists of lofty oak, along with beech and birch. The oak and beech are around 70 to 80 years old and were recently subject to a gentle thinning with the aim of allowing the more favourable stems to progress and develop for the benefit of future generations.

Sporadic cherry, hornbeam, sycamore, poplar and lime – especially on the northwestern boundary – add to the species mix. There is a particularly fine specimen of lime near the northeast boundary. The occasional holly and hazel coppice occupy the shrub layer. Ground flora includes primrose, bracken, dog's mercury and fruity bramble.

Looking after the oak and beech with a simple management plan could be an interesting project for a new custodian. If the trees are carefully managed to a desired size, there is the potential that the future timber from the oak might be suitable for furniture production. Clearings throughout the woodland used for the recent forestry operation, allow access to most areas. These could also serve as camping spots for overnight adventures.

Mammals spotted here include roe, muntjac and fallow deer, hare, wood mouse, squirrel and fox. Feathered residents include owls, jay, blackbirds, green woodpeckers, lesser redpoll and many acoustic songbirds. Congenial robins come to say hello when our Forester visits.

Our Forester's Thoughts

Sam says...

"I would hoist a parachute between some trees, creating a sheltered area to hone my bushcraft skills, as well as using this spot for camping with the family. The residual brash from the recent thinning in the racks has been used to protect the soils here during the process but will now offer habitat for important insect life below; I would leave this in situ to decay into the ground but gather the larger diameter wood for domestic fuel." "

Please remember some management operations require approval and/or a licence.

- Continue along the A131 through the hamlet of High Garrett, passing The Hare and Hounds pub on the right.
- A further 540 metres beyond the pub, take the fork left at the traffic lights, following the sign for Haverhill, along the A1017 leaving High Garrett.
- After 0.6 miles, you will arrive at the entrance to the woodland on the left, indicated by a pair of wooden gates set back with post and rail fencing, and our Woods4Sale sign (point A on the plan below). If you pass the 40mph sign for Gosfield village, you have gone too far.
- Please park in a safe, suitable place, not obstructing the gates.
- Climb over the gates (sorry, we do not provide keys for viewings) and continue along the track, bearing left shortly after, keeping the timber stack and woodland shed on your right (point B).
- Continue along the main track through the woodland following occasional white arrows on trees.
- After roughly 500 metres, you will pass a relatively open glade on the right (point C) but stay on the track and continue back under the cover of the woodland, following the white arrows.
- After roughly 530 metres (from the glade), you will arrive at the southeastern corner of Maplestead Wood (point D), indicated by blue and green paint on a wooden post.

You are welcome to view this woodland at any time during daylight hours.
