Why you'll like it

This three-bedroom terraced house is for sale in Steeton and is suited to both first-time buyers and investors. The property is in good condition and offers a practical layout with a large reception room, kitchen, and garden.

On the ground floor, the reception room features a fireplace and a large window, providing a focal point and natural light. The kitchen includes built-in pantries and benefits from good natural light with direct access to the rear garden, offering an efficient space for day-to-day cooking and storage.

Upstairs, the main double bedroom includes an en-suite with separate shower and separate bath, as well as eaves storage. A further double bedroom and a single bedroom with boiler cupboard complete the sleeping accommodation, providing flexibility for family use, guests, or a home office.

Steeton offers a range of local amenities including small shops, cafés and everyday services, with additional facilities available in nearby Keighley and Skipton. There are nearby parks and green spaces in the area, along with access to the wider countryside of Airedale and the Yorkshire Dales. Transport links are a key feature of this location. Steeton & Silsden railway station is within easy reach, providing regular services to Leeds and Bradford (typically around 35–45 minutes) and to Skipton in around 10–15 minutes.

Bus routes run through the village, and road links connect easily to the A629 towards Keighley and Shipley. This combination of accommodation and location will appeal to buyers seeking a well-placed home in Airedale.
