DESCRIPTION

Borgue House is an attractive traditional country house, beautifully positioned on the edge of the coastal village of Borgue in southwest Scotland. Enjoying a peaceful rural setting, the property is surrounded by approximately 16 acres of its own policy and grazing grounds, affording open countryside views and a rare sense of privacy while remaining within easy reach of village amenities.

Dating from the early 20th century, Borgue House has remained in the same family ownership since 1946 and has served as a much-loved family home throughout that time. The house is of traditional construction and offers generous, well-proportioned accommodation arranged over two floors.

The property is approached via a sweeping curved gravel driveway, leading through mature trees to lawned garden grounds that are both private and beautifully landscaped. The gardens provide a tranquil setting for outdoor living and entertaining. Beyond the gardens, the wider grounds include grazing land and a picturesque ruin, adding both historical interest and further potential, subject to the necessary consents.

Borgue House presents a rare opportunity to acquire a substantial country house with extensive land in a highly sought-after coastal location, offering scope for a variety of lifestyle, leisure or small-scale agricultural pursuits, all within one of Dumfries & Galloway's most unspoilt and scenic settings.

The village of Borgue is an active and friendly community with many local events taking place throughout the year. There is a hotel in the middle of the village, a church and local community hall. The village attracts a wide range of artists and makers, with the artist town of Kirkcudbright, a 10-minute drive from both properties. Kirkcudbright is extremely popular with tourists and is known as the 'Artist's Town' as well as craft shops and niche retailers the town is well served with a full range of retail and professional services.

Primary schooling is available in Gatehouse of Fleet and secondary schooling available within Kirkcudbright. A further range of services can be found in Castle Douglas (The Food Town), with the high street being renowned for its niche retailing with a wide range of traditional shops and craft outlets.

Communications to the area are good with the property lying in close proximity to the main A75 Euro Route, which provides quick access from the south via the M6 & M74. Cairnryan, the ferry link with Northern Ireland is a little over an hour's drive via the A75. The international airports of Glasgow & Edinburgh are within a one-and-a-half-hour drive. There are mainline railway stations at both Dumfries and Lockerbie.

This area of Southwest Scotland enjoys one of the most varied and picturesque landscapes within Scotland, ranging from the moorland of the Southern Upland Hills to the bays and sandy beaches of the distinctive coastline. This is a rural county where agriculture and tourism thrive to form the backbone of the local economy. The area has been relatively unscathed by modern industry.

The region is well-known for the quality and variety of both field sports and leisure activities with the outdoor and sporting enthusiast extremely well-catered for as there exist the ability to take both shooting and fishing locally. Given the diverse landscape along with the proximity to the coast and local lochs, the area offers unique walks, sailing, cycling and for the golfer there is an abundance of good local courses with the region boasting no fewer than twenty-nine courses.
