Little Polgooth, Nr. St Austell, Cornwall

FREEHOLD

An impeccably presented and beautifully spacious 3 double bedroomed traditional Cornish cottage occupying a fantastic elevated position commanding panoramic views over an unspoilt valley and set in beautifully landscaped gardens approaching an acre.

SUMMARY OF ACCOMMODATION

Ground Floor: sitting room, dining room, study/family room, kitchen/breakfast room, utility/shower/wet room.

First Floor: 3 double bedrooms, family bathroom.

Outside: driveway parking for 2 vehicles, detached single garage, parking. Broad paved front terrace providing lovely views over a valley. Large and well landscaped gardens which are mainly to the rear of the cottage and are separated into separate areas by mature hedges, in all approaching an acre with a large workshop/studio, a separate garden shed and aluminium framed greenhouse.

DESCRIPTION

A superbly presented, refurbished detached traditional Cornish cottage offering surprisingly spacious accommodation comprising three reception rooms to the ground floor together with a large newly fitted kitchen/breakfast room in an extension recently completed by the current owners and on the first floor are three double bedrooms, two of which are to the front of the cottage and enjoy the stunning views out over an unspoilt valley whilst the third is at the rear of the property with direct access to the rear gardens. There is a utility/shower/wet room on the ground floor and a well fitted family bathroom on the first floor with bath and separate shower unit.

The surrounding gardens are an absolute delight having been well landscaped and planned over the years, approaching an acre. Adjacent to the road the driveway provides parking for 2 vehicles and access to the single detached garage and from the garage 25 steps ascend to the front of the cottage where there is a broad paved terrace overlooking the valley and providing access to the front door and either side of the cottage. The majority of the garden lie to the rear and immediately along the back wall of the cottage is a large paved terrace with raised planting beds set into the retaining walls and an attractive pond feature with steps up to an aluminium framed greenhouse and a superb studio/workshop built of block and tanalised timber with light and power points. Further steps pass the workshop ascend into the gardens above which are beautifully landscaped and divided into various areas by mature hedges with mature hedge and tree boundaries that are clearly defined and provide total privacy.

Finding such a well presented and spacious cottage in such beautiful surroundings with lovely views and large gardens is quite difficult and as long as the slope and steps don't pose a problem then this should make quite an easy decision for any potential buyer.

LOCATION

Little Polgooth is a sought after and picturesque village between Truro and St Austell providing easy access to both. Polgooth village has a local village store and post office, coal store, hairdresser and a well regarded village inn all within walking distance.

This picturesque rural village lies within easy reach of the south Cornish coast with superb beaches just a short drive away at Porthpean, Charlestown, Carlyon Bay and Pentewan with both Porthpean and Pentewan beaches having active sailing clubs. The picturesque fishing village of Mevagissey lies to the south with its beautiful inner and outer harbours providing fishing trips and boating facilities and behind the stunning beach at Carlyon Bay is an 18-hole golf course. There are further golf courses available in Polgooth and nearby at Duporth.

St Austell town centre is but a short drive away providing a wide array of leisure, commercial and retail facilities, a revitalised shopping centre, large leisure centre, out of town trading estates and supermarket, a variety of sports clubs and a mainline station that provides a direct link to London Paddington with an approximate travel time of 4½ hours. The road network from St Austell connects quickly to both the A390/A38 and the A30, both of which remain largely dual carriageway all the way to Exeter where they join the national motorway network.
