Amenities

For many, Northleach is a Cotswold secret. Tucked away from the busy A40, between undulating hills, it stands at a crossroads on the Roman Fosse Way, in an area of outstanding natural beauty. The streets in and around the ancient market place are rich in architectural interest ranging from half-timbered Tudor houses and merchants' stores to the great House of Correction, (formerly 'The Cotswold Heritage Centre'), built in the 18th Century. Above all, Northleach is a thriving small Cotswold town which has successfully balanced its traditional commerce with the demands of tourism. When you walk through the town, it presents itself as a proud descendent of the great days of the wool trade, boasting the finest example of the Cotswold perpendicular style in the impressive Church of St Peter and Paul. Although wool is no longer the main business of the town, the marketplace is busy with trade and the local hostellers provide a lively service to both visitors and locals.

Northleach offers a wealth of shopping facilities, from helpful and friendly proprietors, with the added bonus of free parking! Here you will find something for everyone from fresh bread and cakes, newspapers and magazines to specialist wines, fine quality meats and cheese, picture frames and paintings, dolls houses and furniture, music boxes, cosmetics, cards and souvenirs. For those wishing to prolong their stay, Northleach has a number of establishments offering quality accommodation, plus a variety of eating places and public houses.
