Rawdon Hall Lodge is an impressive detached period property, beautifully situated in a quiet semi-rural location adjacent to open farm land and yet within very easy reach of good rail and road links to Leeds and Bradford city centres and Leeds Bradford airport. The house is set in extensive, mature gardens and has been extended and altered over the years to adjoin the original stable buildings around a cobbled courtyard. This imposing, highly individual and much loved family home has been in the same ownership for some 40 years and whilst it would benefit from some updating by new owners, it boasts numerous fine features and its size and potential cannot possibly be appreciated unless viewed internally. With six reception rooms and five bedrooms, this house is considerably bigger than it looks!

LOCATION

Rawdon Golf and Lawn Tennis Club is at the end of the lane and public footpaths and bridle paths through Cragg Wood and the neighbouring estates provide ample opportunity for recreational pursuits. Despite its semi-rural and very quiet location, Rawdon Hall Lodge is also situated within five minutes drive of the new Apperley Bridge station providing fast and frequent services to Leeds and Bradford city centres. Road links via the A65 and A658 are also on hand and there are restaurants, pubs and local shops within walking distance. There are excellent schools for all ages close by including Woodhouse Grove and Bronte House independent schools which are almost on the doorstep.

DESCRIPTION

This is a delightful and surprising property offering a wealth of character, charm and space which has to be viewed to be appreciated. The house has an unusual layout which has been developed over time by the present owners to suit their needs and could easily be altered again to provide two separate dwellings or an annexe - there is plenty of space to play with and the heating system is already split and served by two separate boilers. This unique family home boasts a stunning oak panelled library created fifteen years ago by its book loving owner and a magnificent 31' long games room amongst its many fascinating features. The house is ready for new owners who may want to update and alter the accommodation to their own taste.

OUTSIDE THE PROPERTY

The grounds are a delightful feature of this home. There are extensive lawned areas, orchard, trees and shrubs and although the grounds are large they have been developed for ease of maintenance. All around the house is a paved area and to the side of the kitchen is a charming stone walled sheltered patio with a feature stone topped table. This area is lit and is ideal for barbeques and al fresco dining. A roof terrace accessed from the main bedroom provides further opportunity to enjoy the idyllic rural setting of this lovely family home.
