Concept sketch study of One Hyde Park by Rogers Stirk Harbour + Partners

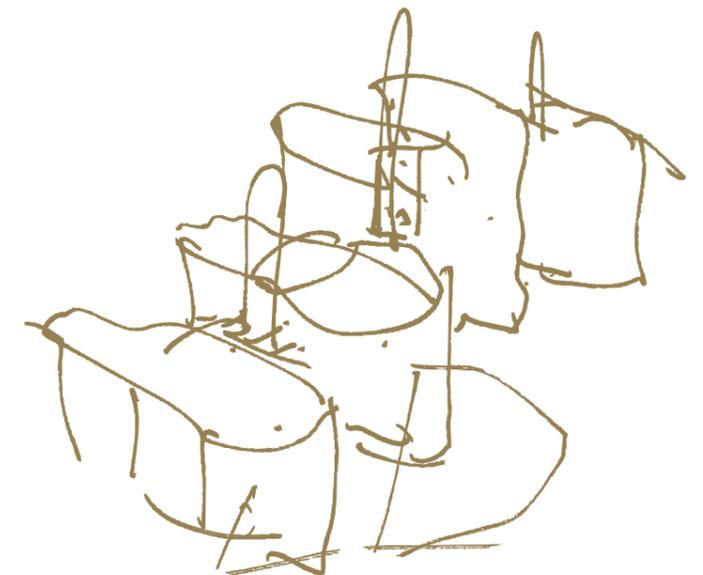

The exceptional collaboration between leading architects, designers, artists and hoteliers ensures that One Hyde Park: The Residences at Mandarin Oriental, London, delivers ultimate perfection and a unique experience on every level.

The vision of Candy & Candy has become reality in the creation of the most exquisite interiors for the most exclusive address in the world. Each apartment has been designed to complement the beautiful and carefully designed proportions of the architect's vision and every detail has been considered to ensure the experience of life at One Hyde Park is unsurpassed.

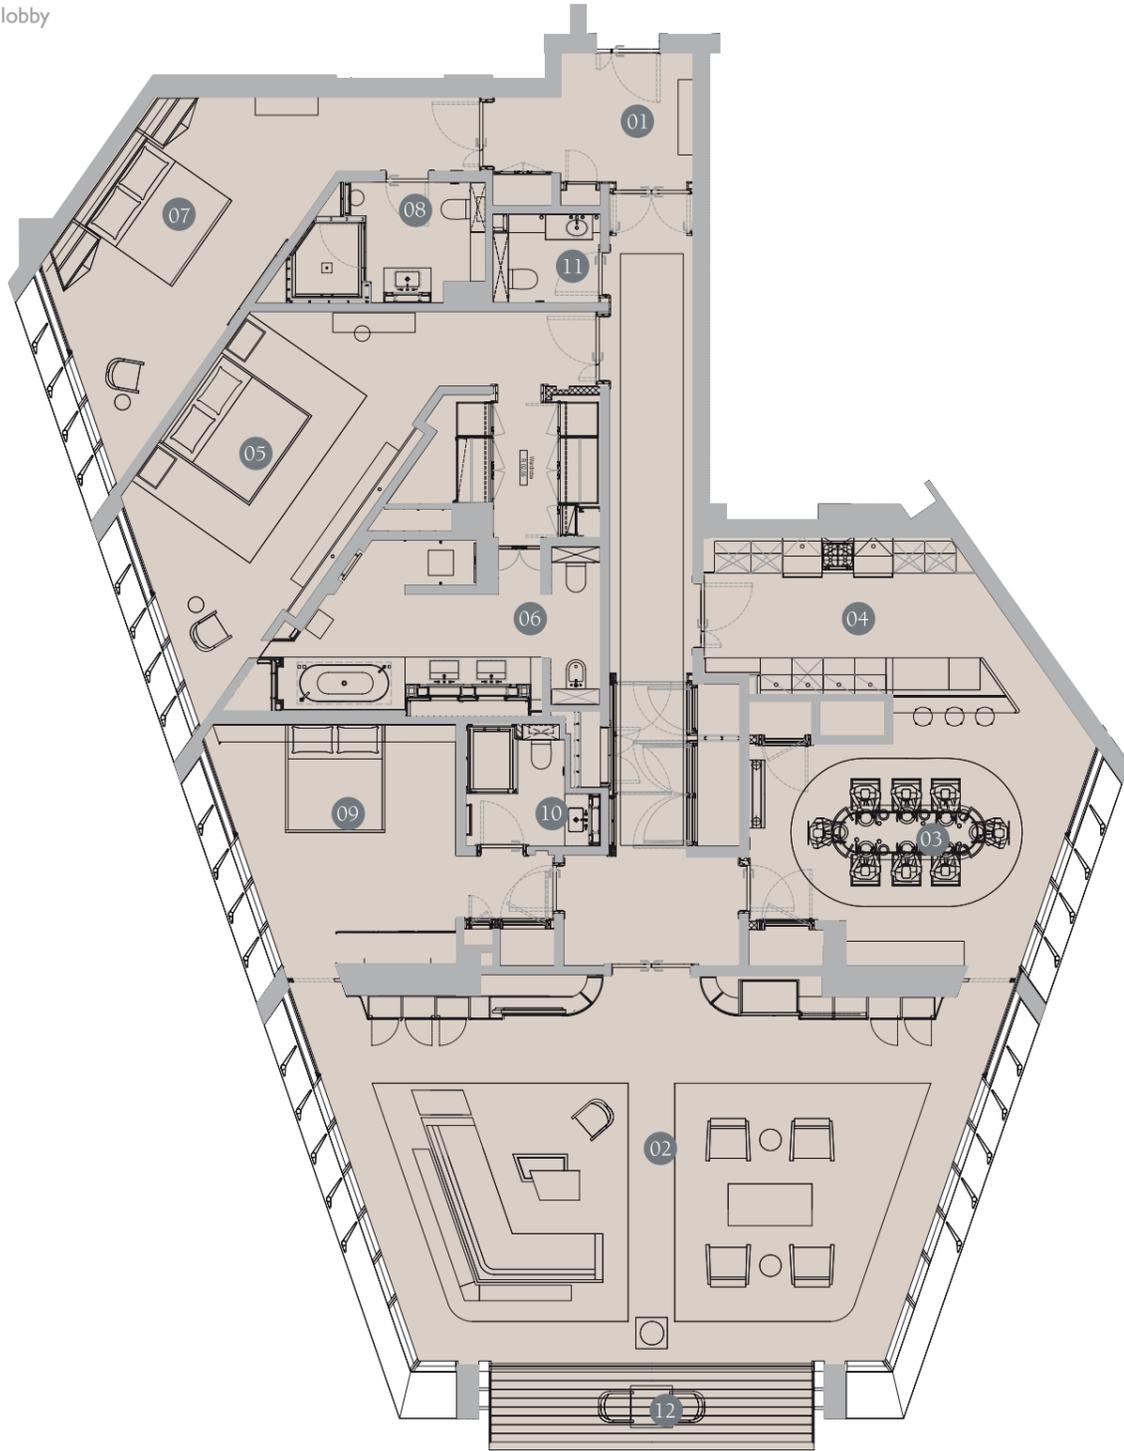

Award-winning interior designers Candy & Candy have exclusively designed all the communal areas including the spa and recreation facilities, the grand double-height reception space, Park Library and Serpentine Suite as well as exclusively designing the interior base build of each apartment.

Candy & Candy are world-renowned for their uncompromising attention to detail and style; each apartment in One Hyde Park has been finished to their exacting standards and carefully assigned one of two thoughtfully designed base build palettes; light or dark. Both the light and dark palettes have an impressive selection of complementary and carefully balanced stones sourced from the finest quarries around the world including Brazil, France, Italy, Spain and Turkey. Each palette provides the perfect foundation on which residents can imprint their own interior design personality.

Each apartment also includes provisional wiring for audio visual systems and programmed lighting controls which will enable residents to select their preferred suppliers for all their personal audio visual requirements.

Entrance hallway

Left

An elegant burr walnut console table with bronze specialist metal details, sits to one side of the entrance hallway with a vintage travertine lamp sourced from New York, situated on top.

Right

One side of the hallway a pitted, concrete-effect plastered wall creates a rustic yet urban influence. Along the opposing wall a dark oak, linear structure with undulating beams and polished stainless steel support runs the length of the hallway and into the spacious reception room at the far end of the apartment. Inspired by a New York building, this architectural formation also echoes the bronze fins unique to One Hyde Park's exterior architecture and creates a dramatic entrance.

Formal reception

Left
The industrial themed formal reception has two separate seating areas; an informal area more suited to formal entertaining. A wrap-around, bespoke chocolate brown leather sofa splashed with bronze, copper and metallic cushions frames the media area of the room. A black lacquer coffee table sits in the centre and reflects the structural shape of the apartment as well as complementing the vibrant, metallic cushions. The joinery is an American black walnut with specialist, patinated metal panels complete finished with rivet bolt details that further enhance the industrial theme of the room.

The formal area of the room features accents of vintage design, such as the silver white sofa and ottoman that lighten this area of the room and add an elegant and traditional mood. A dramatic black lacquer and bronze credenza, inspired by retro 1960's Scandinavian design sits in the centre of this seating area. All elements work together to provide a glamorous entertaining space that overlooks the bustling Knightsbridge below.

The bronze metal-work framed chandelier naturally connects the two areas of the room. It contains parchment cubes that are individually lit, forming a staggered sky line pattern, evoking warm bronze shades that capture the metallic tones prevalent throughout the design.

Dining room

Right

The elegant dark walnut dining table has a calcatta marble inset with angled, tapered legs that are also echoed in the legs of the vintage dining room chairs, upholstered in a dove-grey velvet. Hanging above the table is a striking chandelier which almost appears to grow organically from the ceiling. The chandelier features bronze and crystal rods in a linear, skyline formation, reminiscent of the chandelier in the reception room.

Above

Urban themed wall panels in a grey-stained oak surround the dining area and the vertical, linear formation once again enhances the industrial theme. This theme is continued into the fitted joinery piece adorning the wall which is finished in dark bronze with recycled glass shelves and 1970's inspired handle details.

The classic yet contemporary master bedroom boasts a striking golden travertine feature wall behind the bed. Enhanced with delicate grey, glass wall lights, this sumptuous wall creates a beautiful focal point in the room. A light, soft colour palette has been used in this bedroom, creating a calm and relaxed feeling. Occasional features such as the classic buttoned chaise longue and cushions which adorn the bed are picked out using splashes of vivid royal green, naturally connecting all areas of this spacious room and contributing to the overall sophisticated atmosphere.

Accents of green are also reflected in the peacock feathers, and malachite accessories adorning the elegant cream vanity unit with majestic 'floating' shelves. A bespoke vanity stool inspired by a 1960's design completes the elegant vanity area.

The bathroom is exemplary of the exceptional level of quality and attention to detail demonstrated throughout One Hyde Park. This master bathroom is complete with a rain shower with full floor to ceiling polished and honed stonework and continuous stone plinth with sunken marble his and hers basins and bath.

Mixers and taps are of the highest quality with nickel plated finishings. The bathroom enjoys under stone floor heating and Aquavision TV. Heated towel rails, under basin towel drawers and demisting mirrors complete the experience.

Guest bedroom one

Above
This second bedroom features soft olive-green hues and warm, natural tones which work perfectly with the contrasting, cooler metal finishes. Bespoke fitted wardrobes are situated either side of the bed to provide ample storage space and are finished with a dark brown lacquer, complete with stipple-effect texture. These finishes are also featured on the opposing shelving and bedside tables. A delicate vintage armchair upholstered in peppermint-green velvet paired with a vintage floor lamp, creates a relaxing space in one corner of the room, providing an ideal space to unwind and relax.

Right
Drawing on the New York theme of the apartment, the backdrop to the bed area of this second bedroom is finished in a distressed mesh texture.

Guest bedroom two

Above

Dark caramel and tan leather are prominent throughout the design of this third bedroom, enhancing the dark tones used in the fitted wardrobes. Striking vertical pewter structures and rivet details feature on the wardrobe, demonstrating the exceptional level of detail used throughout the design of this apartment. In contrast, a light leather base has been used on the bed and runs through to the headboard and also the opposing wall, behind the desk. This generous use of leather creates a sumptuous and warm feel to the room working well with the bold metal work structures.

Left

An eye-catching 1960's vintage metal desk reflects the industrial theme from the reception room and becomes a focal feature in the room and an ample place to work and study.
